First Aid lessons in Health

Don't be alarmed by first impressions!

No students were injured in these photos!

As part of learning to care for their bodies, students have been discussing different first aid scenarios. They have discussed the use & safe storage of medicines.

Last week the students practised bandaging a patient who had been bitten by a snake.

Today they looked at some of the resources from the 'Little First Aiders' website, including videos. They practised checking for danger, looking for a response and rolling into a recovery position.

Does your child know their address at home?

Can they identify the closest crossroad to tell an emergency operator?

Do they remember your phone number?

These life skills could help to save a life!
